

FARM BUREAU AND 'PANTRY' ARE TOGETHER

Farmers Share Products
With Those Who Can Not Pay Much

Headquarters of the Farm Bureau—Paul Rader's Pantry combination for collecting abundant farm products of Cook county for which there is a profitable market, and turning them over to Paul Rader's Pantry for canning to feed the penurious in Chicago this coming winter, are opened at 816 West Randolph street, Chicago, at the Randolph street market.

The headquarters are in charge of Mr. C. H. Mills, formerly of Bensenville, Ill., selected by County Farm Adviser O. G. Barrett, because of his ability and long experience in buying and selling produce. Joseph J. Gordon, superintendent of the Randolph street market, also has headquarters at the same address and is cooperating in the movement to salvage the crop surplus.

At this place they are buying more or less of the farmers' stuff at modest figures. However, farmers are turning over to them much

Vacation Next Week—No Paper

The Paddock Publications are going to take a vacation next week. The editors, big and little, linotype operators and all are going to take a week off. Not because they have any money to spend, but in the hopes that the week will bring to them a bit of optimism and the assurance that this is not such a bad world after all.

The business office and job printing departments, however, will be open.

The reporters are thus also given a vacation and all will return to duty August 15th, ready to make the paper bigger, better and newer than ever. May we have the cooperation of our readers, friends who will overlook the issue that will be missed.

The editors feel that all will benefit in getting away from the customary grind of a newspaper office and return with a lot of pep that will help lick Old Man Depression around "these diggins."

Down, Down They Go; Tires are Still Cheaper

Announcement made in this week's issue of this paper tell of new tire reductions, which bring them down to a lower price than ever before. The new reductions are in the form of allowances made on old tires, for which the supply does not equal the demand. If you are in the market for tires, turn to pages two and four and learn all about it.

Cy Perkins' Nubbin Crackers Saturday at Arlington Ballroom

The Arlington Ballroom has been successful in securing the services of Cy Perkins' WLS Nubbin Crackers, now playing every Wednesday night at Riverview Ballroom, Chicago, to play Saturday night, Aug. 6, at the Arlington Ballroom, Higgins and State roads, south of Arlington Heights.

This orchestra is very capable of playing both old and new time dances, such as "The Cow Bell," "Circle Two Step," and many other "get-acquainted" dances. Come out and make new friends there at the Arlington Ballroom. See their adv. elsewhere in this issue.

Start Work on Audit At Mount Prospect

A. L. Roderick, of Mt. Prospect, a member of the firm of Wilson & Company, certified accountants, started work on the auditing of the books of the village of Mt. Prospect this week and expects to have his report ready for the September meeting of the board.

ter while tons of farm crops are going to waste," he said. "But our goal is 6,000,000 cans; and we are well equipped to prepare the food as fast as it is made available to us."

"Knowing farm people as I do, I feel sure that they will rally to the cause in this extreme emergency; and that we will soon be receiving at Mr. Mills' headquarters on Randolph street all the food we'll be able to can."

Movement Spreads
Mrs. Henry Schiffler in Northfield township is leading the way by offering to can an extra 100 cans for the Relief, either for local consumption or to be turned over to the Paul Rader's Pantry, as seems best.

As a demonstration of appreciation of this thought, Farm Adviser O. G. Barrett is furnishing her with a pressure cooker and cans; and some of the Farm Bureau women are making something of a "bee" at the Schiffler home, canning corn, and later, canning tomatoes.

"A few thousand cans, no doubt, will not come amiss, even in our own community, next winter," observes Mr. Barrett, who resides in Arlington Heights.

Upon delivery at the Randolph street address, volunteer workers in the Pantry movement transfer the food to Pantry No. 1, located at the Chicago Gospel Tabernacle, 825 Barry avenue. Here, a complete staff of volunteers is on the job, prepared to clean, cook, and can the food.

"Thousands of cans are already on hand for distribution next winter among destitute families who are faced with starvation this winter."

Mount Prospect Travelers Return Home With Many Tales

Three Mt. Prospect cousins, Harvey, Wilbert and William Busse, returned home Saturday night from their western auto trip with George Busse and William Busse, Sr., the latter two being "baggage" according to the diary that chanced to come into the hands of the Mt. Prospect editor. Of course the three boys were very much pleased to have the older men along to help pay the bills, but the three cousins did all the work and got the most out of the trip, especially when they arose at 2 a. m. in order to view a sunrise from Pike's Peak.

The five, safely packed amidst a lot of camping material, left Mt. Prospect July 11 and returned home July 30th, having traveled 3298 miles, used 333 gallons of gas, 30 quarts of oil, stopped for four punctures and running out of gas only once when they pushed the car half a mile. The record time for unloading camping equipment for the purpose of getting at an extra tire was 15 minutes.

The above are official figures taken from the diary. The enjoyment of the trip exceeded all expectations. The group camped the entire period, eating only two meals in restaurants.

Harvey was the expert in frying pork chops and making gravy; William III could make the best pan cakes while Wilbert was the mechanic who stopped along the roadside to fix cars which were in trouble—when the drivers were ladies.

The county commissioner was on a vacation trip but he did talk politics, especially when he came across a hard boiled Democrat who had a camp alongside of the Mt. Prospect Republicans.

The five made the acquaintance of Nebraska grasshoppers; watched men in Colorado wash gravel for gold and spent two nights at the foot of Mt. Prospect in Estes Park.

It is a small world after all, so thought Geo. Busse when he met an acquaintance of Wm. Kirchhoff at Estes Park. There he also met a vacationing widow who claimed that she was the first sweetheart of Fred Lorenzen, village treasurer of Arlington Heights.

Commissioner Busse could not understand why a washboard was

KRAUSE & KEHE OPEN MONEY EXCHANGE HERE

Service is Greatly Needed in Arlington—a Town
Without a Bank

The acute situation in which Arlington Heights now finds itself without a bank, will be partially relieved by the opening of an Exchange by the real estate firm of Krause & Kehe. A similar plan has been adopted in other places that suddenly found themselves without a banking institution and has been found to be a great aid to local businesses and individuals.

The cashing of checks, the making of change, collection of interest coupons for holders of mortgages and bonds, the renewal of mortgages that have matured and have to be extended. The writing of Fire & Tornado insurance, etc., in which that firm is thoroughly experienced, and therefore will be pleased to render such services.

Without such service in a community, local people will be forced to go to other towns, which will also induce them to do their buying in those places.

The ordinary business man who is asked to cash a great number of checks in payment of merchandise purchased, also in payment of accounts, does not have the adequate funds on hand to respond to many such requests.

To the holder of mortgages and bonds and for the collection of interest coupons and interest notes, they will render prompt and efficient service.

The firm of Krause and Kehe are rendering that service at a minimum of cost to the individual.

The plan will need the cooperation of the business houses, as the service will no doubt be welcomed by them as well as the many individuals who bring home a weekly or monthly pay check. This exchange will be open for business commencing Saturday, Aug. 6, 1932.

Krause & Kehe real estate office is located in the center of the business district and is of ready access to every resident of the village. Their service will be especially welcomed by the many farmers who are in the habit of doing their financial business in Arlington Heights.

Annual Wheeling Day An All Round Success

The fifth annual Wheeling Day has come and gone, a success both socially and financially. The weather conditions proved ideal and a large crowd was in attendance, especially in the evening. The afternoon program included band concert, races and a baseball game.

The school band entertained with numerous selections under the direction of their instructor, Mr. Mason. A trio of young musicians from Chicago also entertained at various intervals throughout the day. Races were held for those groups most interested, and the winners presented with prizes.

Wheeling baseball team played Long Grove, and the local team won by a score of 6-0. Dancing was a big center of interest during the course of the evening, and the various booths with their games of chance were also well patronized. The advertising booths contained an especially large and practical display of prizes, donated by business people of Wheeling and nearby villages. A large percentage of the crowd remained until well after midnight to learn the holders of the tickets of the grand prize drawings. The Plymouth four door sedan went to Mr. G. F. Grignon of Chicago, the electric mix-master to a Libertyville party and the doll house to Miss Elsie Pieper of this village. Although financial returns will not be so large as formerly, the day can be voted a success.

Mt. Prospect Village Pushes Claims Against Local Business Firms

The village of Mt. Prospect with an empty treasury means to collect the business licenses that are due and brought its first case to trial for 1932 license last week. The village considers that the validity of the recently passed ordinance will not be further questioned and the payments will be made by the remaining business houses. The case last week was against Mr. Kinsel, who paid the license and costs.

The village board also intends to push the earlier case in which the village is a defendant and Tuesday evening authorized the payment of $200 for attorney fees for that purpose.

Special Assessment Delinquents Heavy in Mount Prospect

The list of delinquents in special assessments that have been filed with the county treasurer for collection by Mr. Moehling collector of Mt. Prospect reach a large figure. For the year 1931 the total is $164,000 and for 1932 $185,000.

Barney Richards
And His Radio Band at the Gay

Barney Richards and his radio band will appear nightly at the Gay ballroom, southwest corner of Dempster and Waukegan roads. This ballroom is one of the most attractive and collect dance places northwest of Chicago and has features not usually to be found.

FAIRCHILD DESCENDENTS HOLD REUNION

A Fairchild family reunion was held last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Jayne in Wheaton. Twenty-nine were present, including the Levi Waymans and children, the George Raus and children and Mrs. Lydia Lorenzen and children, of Arlington Heights; also Mr. Harry Fairchild and family from Chicago. Children's families were included in the party. The hostess is a daughter of Mrs. George Raus. The family is descended from Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fairchild.

Huecker Now Sells
DeSoto and Plymouth

R. F. Huecker, former Ford agent at Mt. Prospect, is now selling De Soto and Plymouth cars. He has released his former Ford contract but will continue to handle a complete stock of Ford parts. He will also continue the sale of Ford trucks, for which he has found a strong demand.

Dean Mumford
Visits Cook County
Farm Bureau

Dean Herbert Mumford of the University of Illinois, on vacation from his duties at the University, is calling on the various county farm advisers in the State. Monday morning, he dropped in unannounced on Farm Adviser O. G. Barrett in Arlington Heights, the Farm Bureau offices being in Arlington Heights and Blue Island.

Dean Mumford stated that Cook county has one of the best organized farm bureaus in the State. The Dean was especially pleased with the educational features of the Gardeners' Supply, Inc., the only institution of its kind in the country; particularly with the policy that only such insecticides and materials for disease treatment as are recommended by the University are to be put on the shelves of the Supply company.

With its contact with the Farm Adviser, his Assistant, Mr. Tascher, and with Mr. Shropshire, assistant State Entomologist, not to say something of the ability of its manager, Mr. Zikmund, who has had training at Michigan and Cornell universities, the Supply company is in position to offer thoroughly first hand, authoritative information as regards disease, insects and treatments, in a manner that it would be hardly possible to secure elsewhere. The fact that the truck gardeners are appreciating this service is evidenced by the rapid growth of this institution.

Tuesday morning Dean Mumford and Mr. Barrett, Farm Adviser, took an early morning tour of the various vegetable markets in the City. It is the Dean's desire as well as Mr. Barrett's, that something in the way of an improvement of the marketing system may be brought about.

Start Widening
Job on Highway
In Arlington

Work toward repaving and widening the Northwest highway from Foundry road to Arlington Heights road, all in Arlington Heights, started Wednesday morning, Milburn brothers of Mount Prospect being the contractors. The old pavement is being taken out, and a 35 to 40-foot pavement will be laid down within the next three weeks.

It is expected to have the highway open again for Sunday before Labor Day.

The clerk was instructed to pay the compensation insurance fees for police officers when same is due. The vacation date for Chief Mulso was left to the police committee.

In accordance to a recent order of the board for a third clean-up day, August 17 was fixed as the date for the summer collection of rubbish.

But Is Looking For More Business

Winkelmann's Tire and Battery Shop report the largest business in its history last week end due to the new tire prices. Many a car drove up and the owner said, "change 'em all." With the prices still lower this week-end, Mr. Winkelmann hopes to better last week's record. ## Senior Editor Eighty Years Old

Mr. H. C. Paddock, senior editor of this paper, is eighty years old today. Although he can not run as fast as in former years and his hair is getting thin, he is not yet content to sit on the sidelines and let the world go by. He is in active charge of two editions of the Paddock publications, drives his car every day and as he says, "eats well, sleeps well and has a clear conscience in spite of the depression."

The publishers of this paper receive many inquiries from old acquaintances regarding his health. Some say that they have not seen him for a number of years. Hardly a week goes by when some old subscriber calling at the publication office does not refer to the horse and buggy days when "dad" stayed all night at their house.

To these and to other friends, the publishers are glad to say that Dad is still in the harness, is at his desk every morning, ready to advise the "young fellows" what they should do and there is nothing he enjoys more than to have his old friends ask about him.

Mr. H. C. Paddock has been in active newspaper work over fifty years, and thirty-one years of which have been spent in Arlington Heights.

AGREE ON PLAN FOR PAVING OF STATE ROAD

Highway to be Forty Feet
Wide Next Year; 20 Ft.
To Be Laid Now

Mayor Flentie, County Commissioner Byrd and other officials had a conference with Major Quinlan early this week and an agreement was reached in reference to the paving of State road through Arlington Heights. The original plan called for a pavement of 18 feet to be laid between the present curbs. The contract of the county was awarded under that plan.

Many people objected to having that street becoming an alleyway connecting the many paved arteries running east and west and Mayor Flentie took the matter up with the highway department. Under the new plan the center line of the street will be determined and pavement 20 feet wide without curbs will be laid now. Early in September bids will be asked for the paving of an additional ten feet and curb upon each side of the other pavement, making a completed street of 40 foot pavement.

The finance and police committee reports, and discussion thereon lived the Village Board meeting in Arlington Heights Monday night.

The states covered in the trip were Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, So. Dakota and Iowa. Returning home thru the latter state, they made a number of stops. Cousins were visited at Latimer where they enjoyed a thrilling dinner. At Storm Lake they called upon Ed. Sigwalt who operated a creamery one time at State and Algonquin roads, south of Arlington Heights. Wm. Oehlert was visited at Hampton, Iowa.

In So. Dakota, they found the wheat crop the biggest in 45 years with yields of 35 to 40 bu. an acre, compared with normal yields of 10 to 15 bushels. In Iowa the oats are making 35 bu. to the acre but are only bringing 12c a bushel.

Mount Prospect Woman's Club Plans New Year's Work

The Mt. Prospect Woman's club is planning a very interesting and helpful year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Elmer Hauptly, the general program chairman. Several of the departments will put on programs pertaining to their special lines of work.

The committee has been very fortunate in securing Mrs. John Bunting, past president of the 7th district, to conduct a "club institute" at the first meeting of the new year. The purpose of these institutes which are held in most of the federated clubs is better to inform club women of the aims and accomplishments of this great woman's organization which has become such a mighty, uplifting force in the world of today.

Mrs. Bunting will discuss the purpose of Women's clubs, their value to the individual, to the community and to the world at large. She will also conduct an open forum. On Sept. 29th, the seventh district will hold a club institute which many of our local club women will wish to attend.

The Woman's club extends a cordial invitation to all who are interested in reading to make use of the public library. Many of the newer work of fiction may be procured from the rental library for a small sum.

Community Church To Hear Rev. Blair

Next Sunday, August 7th, the Rev. Verle W. Blair will preach. Mr. Blair is one of the available ministers for this pastorate.

All members of the Community church are urged to be present, as well as people of the village who are interested in the community idea of churches, and who will in the future, make this community church their church.

At the eleven o'clock service Rev. Blair's topic will be "Blessings of uncertainty." He will also lead discussion, at the 10 o'clock class for adult members, on "What is Religion?"

The Rev. Blair comes to us with a very fine background of service and education. He is a disciple of Christ minister, also having Community church experience in several localities.

Be at church Sunday.

Wm. Busse, Jr. Host to Crowd of Good Fellows

Mr. Busse was a good provider and there was plenty left when the crowd started home soon after 10 o'clock.

The event was no birthday celebration; just a gathering of good fellows as guests of a good fellow who conceived the idea that just because his business friends are mostly too busy to take time for social contacts, they would enjoy a stag party as much as in their younger days—and they did.

Oh yes, the party was chaperoned by William's mother, the wife of County Commissioner Busse.

V. F. W. Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Ladies auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign War, of Prospect Post No. 1337, will take place this week Friday, Aug. 5, at 8 o'clock in the Community hall. We urge all members to be present and have an idea our guessing contest will be on the program.

Howard Edwin Pollet is the first boy of the V. F. W. National Home to be graduated from high school, receiving his diploma at the exercises held at Eaton Rapids, Mich. He is reported to have done very creditable work in his studies, particularly in such subjects as mathematics, commercial art and wood working. The youngster who is almost nineteen years of age played end in the Eaton Rapids high school football eleven during the 1931 season and received the Varsity award of "E." He won recognition for his ability in basketball during this past winter and was given an "R" as a member of the reserve squad.

Howard came to the V. F. W. National Home in 1925 with his mother, two brothers and three sisters when the now famous institution was first opened. He started in the Eaton Rapids public schools in the fifth grade. Although handicapped by insufficient preparation as a pupil in the primary grades, he has worked hard and his scholastic record during the seven years he has been at Eaton Rapids shows steady improvement.

Howard's father was Edward Pollet, a retired Ordnance Sergeant of the U. S. Army. He passed away in 1925. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection. During the World War he served on the Mexican border.

Howard's sister, Lily, was graduated from the Eaton Rapids high school in 1929, the first youngster to win this honor.

We are very proud of our National Home and of the fact that this mother was able to come to the Home herself and raise her own children. This is the only organization of its kind that has this to offer. Howard is cited only as an example of what is going on at the home. Proud? Why of course we are! Come, join, and help in this wonderful work.

Mt. Prospect Shuts Out St. Luke's; Score 3-0

The St. Paul Baseball club of Mt. Prospect traveled to Winna-mac Park Sunday and defeated St. Luke's in a tight ball game. Lemke and Froemling formed the battery for Mt. Prospect; Koetke was on the mound for St. Luke's. Each pitcher allowed five hits apiece. Lemke and Froemling share the honors. Lemke for his superfluous pitching and Froemling for his great work behind the plate.

Mt. Prospect scored one run in the fourth inning on Kirchhoff's double. Then they scored in the seventh two runs, on a hit by Soenksen and a pass to Seidel and Lemke. Soenksen scored when Froemling was hit by a pitched ball. Seidel scored on an infield out. Good defensive work on the part of Mt. Prospect kept St. Luke's well checked. We had a little ill luck coming home. The truck carrying the team crashed into another car. No serious damage was done. After that happened we had a forfeit. One thing or another happens when we play St. Luke's.

According to the dope Mt. Prospect has to win one more game to claim the North Division championship. The boys are out there with a lot of pep and spirit to win those games. The standing of the League as of August 1:

The final return date will be October 15. To take advantage of the rates, Legionnaires and Auxiliary members must secure official identification certificates from their Legion Post or Auxiliary unit.

Fidac Auxiliary Delegates

Appointment of delegates to represent the American Legion auxiliary at the annual congress of the Fidac auxiliary, to be held in Lisbon, Portugal, Sept. 4 to 10, has been announced by Mrs. Frederick C. Williams, of Tuckahoe, New York, the Legion auxiliary's national president. The American delegates will be Mrs. E. E. Lambaugh, of Boise, Idaho; Mrs. William T. Joyner, of Raleigh, North Carolina, and Mrs. Sedley Peck of Paris.

The Fidac auxiliary is the woman's auxiliary organization to the Federation Interallie des Anciens Combattants, the international World War Veterans' Federation, and is made up of women's organizations in ten countries allied or associated in the war. Its main purpose is the promotion of world peace thru the strengthening of international understanding and good will.

Contribution to National Child Welfare Division

A contribution of $6,200 to the child welfare funds of the American Legion has been made by the national organization of the American Legion auxiliary.

The money will be used for direct relief work among the children of dead and disabled veterans and administered by the National Child Welfare Division of the Legion. Heavy demands for Legion aid for fatherless children of veterans made the contribution especially needed at this time.

A New Era of Banking Co-operation

The strength of the United States banking system today rests upon the shoulders of the thousands of able, honest bankers whose faithfulness to their public trust has been demonstrated beyond question.

The record of loyal service by bankers shows few exceptions. Banking standards of management have been raised to a new high level as a result of the experiences of the past two and one-half years.

New legislation, stricter supervision and a deeper appreciation of mutual interests, give promise of a new era in the relations of banks and their depositors.

ARLINGTON VILLAGE HELP GOES PAYLESS

sewage to enable the treatment plant to work, Mr. Framberg said. Matter was left to the sewer committee.

Trustee Schaefer, chairman of streets and lighting, reported mowing of those thistles at the treatment plant; also on N. Evergreen; put four loads crushed stone at Hickory and Miner, scarified and graded Campbell street and Foundry road; and various streets cleaned.

The cut off of the ornamental lighting of the business district, at least experimentally, was recommended by Mr. Schaefer. Now that the races are over, it seemed an expense the village can ill afford, especially as business licenses are largely unpaid.

Alleged violation of private building restrictions on N. Mitchell Avenue in the Branigan subdivision was reported. The village can not act unless the zoning or health regulations are violated, Attorney Thal advised. Local property owners and the subdividers have recourse through the courts.

Mr. Hauff of the Police committee presented a bill for $8 toll calls at the police telephone. State policemen are using the phone for long distance calls, and also turning over some of their cases to the village judges, it was said. The officers in charge of the police station are asked to keep a book of record of each call, and the purpose of each, and not to allow anyone to come in to use the phone for his private business.

Merle Guild Post, American Legion, thanked the board in a letter read, for cooperation of officials and police in their recent carnival. An estimate of $150 cash for re-leathering four of the village water pumps, from Wayman and Wayman, was presented by Trustee Barrett.

Trustee Hauff raised the question of what Engineer Allen is doing at the Treatment Plant at $20 a day. This is the second year of the contract, and it was stated, that the Engineer was privileged to put in 40 days' work at $20 each. Mr. Hauff demanded that Mr. Allen be asked to come before the board and explain just what he was doing at the plant, and why so much time was necessary. Mr. Framberg of the sewer committee said he had seen Mr. Allen and asked for such a report, but had not received it. It was moved by Mr. Framberg, and seconded by Mr. Barrett that Mr. Allen be instructed to meet with the board at their next regular meeting, in regard to the contract.

Special Assessment Penalties. Trustees Krause of the Finance committee brought up a discussion of delinquent special assessments, in which Assistant Treasurer Wm. F. Meyer Jr. took part. Delinquents for 1930 are being reported to the county treasurer, the subdivisions first, for attaching of penalties. It was moved by Mr. Krause, seconded by Mr. Klemm, that the Northern Trust Company be designated as depository for the general funds of the village.

The next tax levy will come up at an early meeting, it was mentioned.

The meeting then adjourned. Bills and payroll mentioned above, were detailed as follows:

There is no vocation requiring for its successful prosecution a greater natural aptitude than that of the modern funeral director, and this particularly applies to this well known representative of this valued profession. Through untiring efforts and commendable methods he has progressed from a modest beginning until today he possesses a clientele that extends over many miles of territory. As is generally known he is recognized as among the most proficient and conscientious people in his line in this section and this distinction is well merited as the excellent service he has rendered in the practice of the profession will testify. It may be truly said that no one in this section engaged in the arduous profession of which he is an able exponent is better equipped from every standpoint to carry out all of the work attendant upon the calling. We wish in attempting to set forth the most pertinent features of our onward progress to give prominent mention to the modern equipment and admirable work which has won for this well known man the prominent position which he has merited and to compliment Wm. ### The Importance of Exercise and Diet

External applications of lotions and creams can go a long way in creating beauty but unless the body is healthy and vigorous it is impossible for any woman to have the clear sparkling radiance that is the foundation of all charm.

So the intelligent woman will build a foundation for beauty with a well rounded diet. Plenty of green vegetables, raw and cooked fruits, milk and lots of water. She will avoid an overabundance of sweets and fats, particularly in hot weather. She will not undertake a reducing diet without her doctor's advice. After all, a well rounded figure is smarter and more attractive than one that is underweight.

The right kind of exercise is absolutely essential in the creation of a lithe, graceful figure. Exercise that builds up the muscles of the back, that keeps the legs and arms well rounded and firm and the abdomen flat and taut.

Of course the best kind of exercise is that taken out-of-doors and summer offers so many marvelous sports that it is a slurred, indeed, who passes these wonderful chances by. Perhaps you really do not care for swimming, golf or tennis. In that case even the most unassuming of us can at least take a good brisk walk daily. And it must be brisk. Merely dawdling along will be of little benefit. The woman who means to get the most out of her exercise will step out briskly, maintaining a quick even pace, till the blood races through her body. Often that tired feeling may be banished more quickly by a walk than by a nap. But naturally every woman who takes her body's needs seriously will assure herself of plenty of sleep.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Men who employ are not to blame. How could they give work when no one came? With frozen assets. Tradesmen are chilled. Contractors and builders find nothing to build. We make over dresses. Make over our hats. And spread our floors with braided mats. Cleaners freshen our last year's suit. At the door the bill collectors toot. So much wasting out on the farm. When cold comes we'll go there. And burn corn stalks to keep us warm.

We heard of a man who had devised 23 different uses for corn husks and stalks to be put to for the benefit of man. Food, clothing, building material, bed mattresses—I can't begin to remember all.

It was marvelous and is all recorded and better yet utilized in many beautiful as well as useful articles and devices. What a pity it is so few of us learn to get the most possible out of things placed in our hands to use. How stupid we poor mortals be.

August comes. The races are over; no more carnivals, no more garden shows; just have to settle down to enjoy hay fever and this musical harvest fly or locust singing in the trees; or is it singing? It reminds one of filling a saw or all the discords gotten up in a cat concert.

"August means so much to me," in tender tones he said. "It means hay fever, don't you see my weeping eyes so red?" He fairly dripped in agony. "Please omit flowers" gasped he. As suffering he fled.

Poor fellow, just another case of hay fever; no doubt the flowers he wished omitted was golden rod, madonna lilies or worse yet, roses.

About those huge fishes they tell of hauling out of northern waters, we are reminded of what Mr. Weides little son said about the fish they caught at the lake. He asked his mother what she did with the silver cover on one she was cleaning. He thought the scales were silver.

Someone has been solicitous for me to become interested in The Author's Digest or some other record of books and authors of our time. "Of making books there is no end" and it seems impossible to "digest" any more than the various Reviews and Digests have brought to me the past few years. There may be a "Modern Literature" evolving through these books, yet hidden from my limited vision.

After reading the best of them I cry out with Emerson: "And when I am stretched beneath the pines"

Where the evening star so holy shines. I laugh at the lore and pride of man, At the sophists schools and the learned clan; For what are they all in their high conceit. When man in the bush with God may meet."

As to modern fiction, one has to be of a strange complex between movie pictures, radio, "classics" to even exist through the "best sellers" by our best authors that receive highest praise in the reviews. Our right minded club women are making noble efforts to assure us of better films. We are hoping they will next turn their attention to better books on our shelves and in libraries for children to read.

After reading some of these modern stories, I wash out the taste of them from my mouth. Read a few favorite chapters from the Bible and not quite like David, go to bed "to weep over the sins of my people," but hope and pray for more elevating ideals in modern fiction. This is a grand old day out in the open. Let's hold a picnic. Remember "way back when" they used to go to the beach for a "corn roast." I'll furnish the corn if someone else will furnish the beach.

Picture the poor farmer without any compensation for his year's labor and high tax to pay. Heard a farmer say not long since, not in Cook county, either, that his farm of 210 acres would just about bring in enough to pay the taxes this year. Yet we grumble at the high cost of living. Have you noted the difference in the price the farmer gets, what you pay for eggs, butter, milk, and all farm produce? Think of it.

I'm sorry for the gardener Who cannot sell his stuff; And also for the farmer, who has trouble enough. Yet I hope it isn't wicked When my heart gives joyous beats To see out in the garden A year's supply of eats.

Wonder what would take place if for a week we failed to see the newspapers or to hear the doings in our own town? The headlines, the radio jazz and gossip, the friendly, yet not altogether kindly dissension of our neighbors and friends. Are, all too often of our own kith and kin. Wish some one would start a movement just for one week of such an experience.

Not to be a "Little Sunbeam," yet to be leaving out all evil and unkindly speech. To speak only of pleasing actions of kind and helpful acts. Enumerate the good people you meet, the pleasant deeds you have known about, the lovely and beautiful things you have seen—try it for a day or a week.

What do we often speak about in home's quiet retreat? Do we leave kindly mention out Of those we often meet?

O, let us mention kindly deeds, Forgetting all the bad ones; 'Tis cheering up a body needs, Then try to cheer the sad ones.

And if you have a grief, don't try If it should sleep to wake it; 'Tis braver far to smile than sigh Since life is what we make it.

There is a sunny side to men If only you believe it; There is a light in every soul If you in light receive it.

There is so much of good in all If we perchance may wake it; That magic wand held in your hand Will prove life what you make it.

Then here's to all who loving shed Sweet joy and light about them; Before their shadows soon have fled. What should we do without them?

Doc Evans says we have 2632 hours of sunshine—O, ever so many more than New York. He also said our girls are prettier and our men are tougher than New York's. What do you mean "tougher," Doc? At any rate we don't have as many cats as Oak Park has, when one woman has five and her neighbors declared they made as much noise as 25 ordinary cats.

Not so my alley cat who set a fine example to us all in sharing with those who met with losses. He's a wonderful cat. Mrs. Sophie Blum gave me a little statuette of him and a man has his picture in the Art Institute. Here he comes!

On the back yard fence the alley cat Dragged forlorn and hungry sat; Picking his way with dainty care Came a genuine Persian pluto cat. To the poor plebian cat he said, "I'll never have reason to hang my head, I've heired a fortune rich as a dream, I'll always be fed on cake and cream."

Alas; Alas, poor alley cat Had no comeback to a tale like that. Next day again the alley cat Sat on the fence when loudly wailed The Persian in piteous tones at that;

O, what shall I do—my bank has failed? Off the fence where he often sat Sprang the poor generous alley cat; "Come at once and dine with me, We're having a feast, for don't you see Mother just dragged in a big fat rat!"

We are commanded not to call evil good, yet we do think we oftener magnify the evil we see and hear about than we do the good. Often it may be in overlooking things of good report in those about us we encourage the evil. In our town its officials, its promoters, we do know there is so much of good intent. Let us magnify this intent.

Many take risks on the races that they may get money to pay their debts, heard one poor harassed woman say "I won twenty-five dollars at the races the other day, and I know you think I was a idiot, but I owed a poor family a debt and the money I won paid it; a sort of 'robbing Peter to pay Paul.' But I am not their judge."

The races go, August comes in. Some lost we know and some did win. O, Ho! Soon harvest stores fill the bin.

When an exit from the homes in Arlington Heights where strangers, interested in the races have found a place to rest. New ties of friendship have in some cases been formed. There will be a lull in the tide of travel on our streets and highways, yet the rush goes on.

July leaves us in a stream of sunshine glory, though in her 31 days heat was intense, at the close the air is cool and clear. The sunrise this Saturday, July 30, was one of indescribable beauty. Such glorious cloud colors, such azure blue of skies, such intense green of the foliage and such gorgeous splendor of flowers everywhere. "The Heavens declare the glory of the Lord and the earth showeth forth His handiwork. O, the joy and the beauty of sky, wood and field." Why should we mortals mope and complain? Our Lord said "Ye ought always to rejoice."

Where shall we go, where shall we go? The world is mad Chasing for pleasure, you know, Like Noah's dove or east or west For the sole of your foot There is no rest.

Where shall we go, where shall we go? Crowds of autos jostle us so; They crash and jam on the great highway. They bruise and they mangle Crush and slay. Where shall the hunted go?

Crowds and confusion On every side; Where in safety can we hide? Frenzied voices loudly shout, What do the multitudes Clamor about Where do they madly go?

Some one is crushed, Some one lies dead; The noise-unhushed Cars rushing ahead. Clear of the highway Of the crushed and the slain, Traffic unhindered, speed on again. Football, baseball, on with the

A game, A comrade lies crippled It is sport just the same, Leaping and diving Exercise fine Boxing and striving Though one breaks his spine. High in air hear the rush and roar, Far into cloudland airplanes soar; Over the water, over the town Who counts the dead when planes crash down? Who counts the swimmers Who strangle and drown?

Sport is the slogan, Sport is the aim; What though comrades fall in the game? Pleasure, amusement, don't bar the way, The bubble pursuers are riding today.

Where shall we go, where shall we go? The world is mad for amusement you know; Like Noah's dove in fruitless quest For the sole of your foot You find no rest.

Yet, God over all this hectic rush With His hand will stay To a long, long hush. Elinore Crisler Haynes.

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 31.

The Golden Text was, "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (1 John 4: 16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well" (James 2: 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth, Life, and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statutes" (p. 184).

In a comprehensive review of this kind, embracing as it does the most salient features of our progress, we cannot fail to devote time to the professional statutes of the community and justly so to a profession which is essential as that of a modern funeral director.

One particular feature of this establishment is the privacy for the funeral, the atmosphere is more of the homelike, giving it a touch of reverence. In the family room and parlors that same atmosphere prevails that is different from sadness. All work is done privately in their most sanitary and up-to-dat preparation room.

This concern occupies a modern funeral home which is indeed a real convenience to patrons of the company and shows the progressive spirit which permeates every department of the firm. Entering the home, one is impressed by the atmosphere of intimate privacy and home-like comfort and is filled with a confidence in newly made friends who are to guide your actions during your visit, take care of the little details so distressing in the hour of deepest sorrow.

The New Analytical Bible

A Whole Biblical Library

Complete, Compact In One Handy Volume

King James Version with 5566 readings from the American Revised, included right in the text in brackets.

Why A New Bible?

Why a new Bible? Because it is a new order of Bible, a Bible that meets an urgent need not met by other Bibles. The new Analytical Bible enables us not only to read the Bible more profitably and understandingly, but to become intelligent students of the Bible.

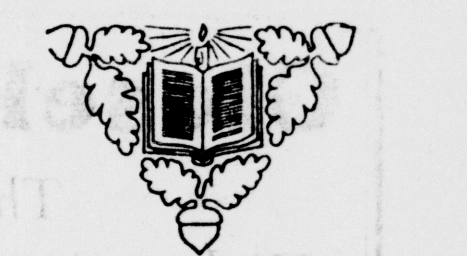

The authorized Version contains many passages that are not the exact rendering of the Greek or Hebrew. These are corrected by the simple expedient of placing the true translation in the text in brackets. For example, Phil. 3:21—"For our conversation [citizenship, commonwealth] is in heaven." Embodied in the text and not placed in the margin or as footnotes, the reader cannot fail to get the correct rendering, and it does not cause confusion in reading the passage. In other words, the correction is placed where it really belongs—in the text itself. There are thousands of such corrections, and this is the only version that makes it possible for the reader of the Authorized Version to get the proper rendering as he reads the text.

"I have been using the New Analytical Bible all fall and find it of immense help."—Rev. Albert B. Coe, D. D., First Congregational Church, Oak Park.

"I feel that the problem of the unused family Bible would be very largely solved if such a volume should be on the table of each home."—Rev. Ralph W. Sockman, Ph. D., Pastor Madison Avenue M. E. Church, New York.

"It is the most complete and usable Bible, considering the helps and comments, we have yet seen."—Rev. G. E. Sawyer, Pastor Mt. Zion Ev. Luth. Church, Pittsburgh, Pa.

SALVATION ARMY FINDS FEW DRUNKS

Think-Act Now or Face National Disaster; College Pres. Warns

How the Salvation Army stands on the 18th Amendment was told by Col. George H. Davis, principal of the Salvation Army Training College, Sunday afternoon before a crowd that filled the large tabernacle in the Des Plaines camp grounds, at the first annual Chicago-Land Dry Assembly.

"From its inception the Salvation Army has been against the liquor traffic, and it has from the first been engaged in a hand to hand conflict with it," said Col. Davis. "Each member of the Salvation Army is pledged to work uncompromisingly and unceasingly for the abolition of the liquor traffic—not only in this country but in all countries. Some of them have had to pay for this stand with their lives. I have myself held those of my comrades at their last breath who were choked to death by representatives of the liquor traffic."

"The Army does not now find the open saloon pouring out its drunken men upon the streets. The drunken men have been reduced 95 per cent."

"Information from our women's homes is that the large number of women who became ruined because of indulgence in intoxicating liquor have been cut to one per cent of what they were before prohibition."

Effect on Poverty

The Army maintains one to three industrial homes for men in every large city, and formerly most of the cases handled were caused by liquor indulgence. Col. Davis stated. In a report by Brigadier Wood of the Salvation Army. 1-102,545 men were cared for in these homes beginning Oct. 11, 1930; "men driven to desperation, out of employment. Out of these there were 75 bad cases of drink; moderate cases of about 1,000; many of these cases repeated."

"In family welfare work, formerly 90 out of a 100 poverty cases came due to drink; now they come because of sickness or lack of employment."

"In respect of what the wealthy and cultured are doing, the poor and the children of the poor are not using liquor. Salvation army reports from the various

Problems Country Faces

Again the tabernacle was packed Sunday night for the final session of eight day's programs. The president of Carroll College, and former regular Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from Wisconsin, Dr. W. A. Ganfield, told his audience that the problems before this nation, now, cannot be side-stepped without terrible consequences, and are three:

1. Equitable distribution of wealth.
2. The relationship between this country and other countries on the globe.
3. The Liquor Problem.

"Ten great white roses rose and fell. None failed because nature failed; they failed because human nature failed."

"Postponement of a problem never solves a problem. No question is ever answered until it is answered right. No human mind can ever be satisfied with error. Whatever the mind can think, the race can do."

Thinkers vs. Mob

"One man can write a Decalogue (Ten Commandments); a million men can break it. Moses never wrote a referendum for the people's approval. Jesus never sent out a questionnaire for a text for his sermon. The nation that depends upon the gallery is doomed. A Chicago gallery cannot save the nation from hell! A mob can never make an army or save a commonwealth."

Challenges Dried

Dr. Ganfield dried the drys for going to sleep after the adoption of the 18th amendment, which he mentioned as "only a beginning" (cheers). "I have seen no more outstanding ignoramus than I have seen in those who 20 years ago have been valiant workers against the Curse. You are beautiful 'Rip van Winkles'."

"If you can think a better condition, then a better condition is possible. Whatever is wrong can be better. Whatever ought to be can be, and what by the Grace of God, can be, will be."

"Tonight Uncle Sam, standing with the Scriptures in one hand and the Flag in the other, is calling you!"

It was announced at the close that all expenses of the big convention were met by voluntary contributions; and after the "Hallelujah" chorus by the Jubilee singers, and the singing by the crowd, of "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," the first Chicago-Land Dry Assembly was finished. Money was secured to help start the second one next year. Press reports of the convention were sent all over the United States.

New Office Created in Power Companies

Announcement was made last week that J. Paul Clayton had been made chief system officer for the interconnected electric system of the Commonwealth Edison company, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and affiliated companies, effective September 1.

Interconnection between these companies and exchange of energy among them has increased steadily for years, forming Chicago's famous "Pool of Power." Such interconnection and interchange have now reached the point where this phase of the business of these companies can be best operated as a system.

The chief system officer will coordinate all system activities for the mutual advantage of the companies. The creation of such a supervising and coordinating agency will not affect the operating organizations of the respective companies and will not alter the functions and responsibilities of their present officials.

Mr. Clayton has a long record in the electricity supply business in Illinois. From 1919 to 1932 he served as vice president of the Central Illinois Public Service company, and since April of this year has been president of that company. Since January 1, 1928, he also has been assistant to the president of the Super-Power Company of Illinois (Powerton station). Early in the year he retired from this position to become vice president in charge of operations of Middle West Utilities company. He will resign his connection with the Middle West system to devote his exclusive attention to his new work.

Mr. Clayton is a graduate engineer, having studied at Tulane University and at the University of Illinois. He is active in civic affairs of the State, and at the present time is chairman of the board of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Extensive plans are being made by the Illinois Home Bureau federation, composed of Home Bureau organizations throughout the state, for the annual state meeting to be held at Starved Rock state park on the Illinois river near Ottawa, Wednesday, August 10. Many are expected to bring their camping outfits, pitch their tents on the campground and make the Home Bureau meeting part of their vacation.

Mrs. Henry J. Mies of Pontiac, president of the federation, believes the meeting will furnish an excellent opportunity for Home Bureau members from all parts of the state to see the more than 900 acres of rugged bluff land in this state park, with its many beautiful canyons and interesting historic background.

After the Funeral

One of the most trying experiences connected with the passing of a loved one—more heart-rending perhaps than the funeral itself—is the return to the home made desolate by the absence of the familiar face. This difficult time is made even more trying when the residence has been disarranged by the funeral service and the receiving of friends and relatives. One of the advantages of using our funeral home is that it preserves the residence from this unnecessary confusion.

WHEELING

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hacker of Evanston, at the Wheeling hospital on July 24.

Friends here were pleased to learn of the birth of an infant son to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zersson, who formerly were residents of Wheeling.

The Wheeling Baseball team duplicated their Saturday's score on Sunday afternoon when they defeated Niles Center by a score of 6-0 on the Wheeling diamond.

Mrs. L. R. Clark is away on a five weeks tour to Europe. She is a member of a party of 15 headed by Carleton Washburn of Winnetka.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Gennill's father, Mr. Perkins of Wilmette, last Friday. Mr. Perkins, who was an official of the Illinois Brick Co., had been a frequent visitor to Wheeling since his daughter made her residence here. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the members of his family.

Chicago, Ill.
August 1, 1932

The Wheeling Chamber of Commerce,
Mr. Otto Utpadel,
Wheeling, Ill.

Dear Otto:

I don't know who picked the Plymouth car for Wheeling Day, but I want to say it is a real auto-mobile. I am more than satisfied with it and cheerfully admit I am very lucky to be the man to hold the winning ticket.

I felt right along that some day I would be repaid for helping to build Wheeling. For the past 20 years I have had good eats there, and in the old days, the cheer that goes with it and hope it won't be long now before we can all line up in the old way and drink to the good luck of the car.

Tell Mrs. Utpadel to keep up the good meals at the Riverside and Old Man Depression will soon be forgotten. Here's for repeal.

Put State Embargo Against Corn Borers

Springfield.—For the protection of the farming industry of Illinois, particularly the sweet corn and truck garden belt, Governor Emerson has issued a proclamation that restricts the importation of all commodities that might transport the European corn borer from infested territory into the state. This was made necessary, plant pest control officials stated, by the withdrawal of the protection that the federal government had provided until Congress, in its recent session, failed to provide the funds required to carry on this work. Officials of nine states, in a meeting called because of this retrenchment in governmental operations, agreed upon the necessity of this action. The state and cook county associations of truck gardeners have pledged their aid to the efforts of the state and local officials to bring about obedience to the embargo order to keep the insect that has caused serious losses in the East from entering Illinois.

Roosevelt shouldn't quote Lincoln. It might remind people of that one about not swapping horses while crossing a stream.

After the Funeral

One of the most trying experiences connected with the passing of a loved one—more heart-rending perhaps than the funeral itself—is the return to the home made desolate by the absence of the familiar face. This difficult time is made even more trying when the residence has been disarranged by the funeral service and the receiving of friends and relatives. One of the advantages of using our funeral home is that it preserves the residence from this unnecessary confusion.

"Rhapsody in Black" On Uptown Stage

"Rhapsody in Black," Lew Leslie's musical smash comes to the Uptown stage Friday. It comes intact with all of the songs and players exactly as presented all over the country at $3.00 a seat.
Ethel Waters, internationally famous entertainer, is the star of this musical, singing in that characteristic style that has won her wide renewed as a singer and comedienne.
Others in the show are Valaida,
a lady of talent, the fast-stepping Berry Bros., Cecil Mack's inspired choir and Fike Davis' hot continental orchestra.

"What Price Hollywood" reveals the "inside" of Hollywood showing all the hopes, disappointments and hard work that a player experiences before becoming a star and then shows how hard it is for a star to maintain her popularity, once she is "on top." An excellent cast supports Miss Bennett.

CONFIDENCE

in Arlington Heights

Regardless of the business and economic conditions that have brought about the closing of the Peoples State Bank of Arlington Heights, leaving this village without a banking institution, the fact remains that Arlington Heights is still here. Its people are not planning to move out and allow the town to "fold up."

The fact also remains that there is practically as much money in this village as a week ago and that only a small portion of it has been tied up for a short time by the closing of the People's Bank.

It is only when we lose the service of a banking institution that we appreciate what it has meant to us in the past. It is true that business will be somewhat handicapped, but there are 5,000 citizens in this village who are going to need food and clothing, the same as they did a month ago.

The undersigned business men feel that there is need for confidence upon the part of every citizen in the town itself as well as its business. If the general public pursues its usual calm course, do their buying from the local stores and keep on living as they have in the past and within their means, your business institutions will be able to continue the service that, in the past, they have been giving to all people of the village.

The business men themselves are too few in number to create alone the CONFIDENCE that is needed here today. It needs the cooperation of every citizen.

In signing this editorial, the business houses whose names are attached hereto are expressing their confidence in the future of Arlington Heights, and are reminding all citizens that only as we maintain our normal living habits and community activities, "business as usual" will all be mutually protected and benefited. We invite all citizens to join with us to keep Arlington Heights going forward upon an even keel.
